AlphaSystemsAOA: The use of AOA guidance and technology should be a no-brainer to anyone in sport or GA... and yet, for some reason, it is easily the exception rather than the rule. For many, the concept of a simple, user-friendly, intuitive AOA system acceptable to the great majority of amateur aviators is the holy grail... and few have pursued that grail as avidly as has Mark Korin... who, when he's not busy being the local Mayor, or running a busy company, has been devoting every spare moment to an AOA system that not only won approval for the MU-2 series, but is getting solid notice around the rest of the industry. The man is incredibly passionate about the benefits of AOA, and has trailblazed a path that could not have been an easy one, but continues to benefit sport, general and business aviation without respite. We're glad he's so dedicated... we need more advocates like him.
